This afternoon you'll enjoy the matinee performance of Cirque du Soleil's Wintuk production at Madison Square Garden. A boy named Wintuk lives in a city where the arrival of winter has brought long shadows and intense cold – but no snow! He interacts with an extraordinary cast of high-energy urban street characters, including acrobats, dancers and talking marionettes. But when the snow doesn't arrive, he embarks on a quest with three companions – a female shaman who's lost in the city, a shy man destined to discover his courage and the shadow of a young girl – to find the snow and bring it back where it belongs. The adventurers journey to an imaginary Arctic – a world without sunlight – where they encounter the rich culture of the People of the North and extraordinary giant characters made of ice.
